West Sac man alleged to have rammed car, fired shot in local feud

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A West Sacramento man is sought by police after allegedly firing a gun as part of a running argument between him and a neighbor family. The shot was fired Monday evening on Hardy Drive.

The suspect is 22-year old Mohammed Nazer Khan.

"On Sunday night, there was an incident on Kagle Drive where a suspect had thrown a couple of incendiary devices at a house," said Lieutenant Derek Brummett of the West Sacramento Police Department. "They may have been designed to be like Molotov cocktails — a couple of beer bottles with some gasoline and a sock. It didn't ignite."

But "the homeowner was able to see who did it, and recognized one of the people. This person had an ongoing problem with (the homeowner's) son."

That dispute continued yesterday.

"Yesterday afternoon, the same suspect ended up behind the son at a red light at Jefferson Blvd. and Sacramento Avenue, and rammed him from behind," continued Brummett. The son was able to drive away in the damage car, and police were immediately informed about the car collision. Officers started heading to the vicinity.

"The suspect ended up at a friend's house on Hardy Drive, and the victim's father saw him and they got into it. The suspect produced a handgun and fired a shot. There were people around. I don't think anybody is sure whether he was firing a shot at anyone, or just firing in the air. No people got hit."

"By the time we got over there," said Brummett, "he was gone, jumping over fences."

West Sacramento police were aided by a Sacramento Sheriff's Department helicopter and deputies and by a Woodland police K-9 unit, and set up a perimeter to try to catch him. But as of last night, Khan was still a man "wanted for a variety of felony charges," Brummett told the News-Ledger.

Was the feud "gang related"? "I'm not aware of any gang connection with the victim or the suspect," said Brummett, "but we do not they have had some issues."

Effort against child abuse focuses on 'little things' anyone can do

Fire on 'A' Street: vacant home, unknown cause

Four fire engines, a ladder truck, a fire department duty chief and an investigator — 17 personnel total — responded to a structure fire on the 400-block of A Street in West Sacramento on March 20.

The first engine to arrive reported smoke coming from the attic of the vacant house, and used a hose to contain the flames to the living room. A fire truck crew ventilated the house and checked the attic for flames.

The cause of the fire was not immediately known, but a fire investigator was called to the scene.

Waste firm awards prize to City of West Sac

West Sacramento has been chosen as the "2008 Waste Management Great American Cleanup Showcase" award winner by its waste disposal contractor, Waste Management, Inc.

The city earned the award through its litter prevention and community improvement efforts, said a statement from company. The city received $5,000 on March 29 for two programs in the parks and recreation program: Teen Heroes and City Pride.

"West Sacramento prides itself on being at the forefront of environmentally friendly practices, and with the help from Waste Management and 'Keep America Beautiful' (a national beautification network), we are able to enhance the current programs," said Denise Kotko, city recycling manager.

From the County of Yolo

Today the Yolo County Board of Supervisors held a press conference to begin a month of activities in the county geared at increasing awareness about the prevention of child abuse. April is Child Abuse Prevention Month in California, and communities across the state, including Yolo County, are spreading the message that "It only takes a minute ... to make a difference in the life of a child."

"There are a lot of small, positive things we can do to help protect and nurture our children that only take a minute," said Helen Thomson, district two supervisor and chair of the Yolo County Children's Alliance and Child Abuse Prevention Council (YCCA). "A few words of praise and encouragement, listening carefully to what a child has to say, showing a child you care and saying 'I love you' are simple actions that have been shown to have a profound impact on a child's life. In very real ways, we can all support children and strengthen families."

Child abuse is a national tragedy with an estimated three million children found to be victims of substantiated abuse or neglect in the United States. In 2007, Yolo County's Child Welfare Services received almost 2,000 calls of suspected child abuse or neglect and nearly 1,400 child-abuse referrals. Yolo County has more substantiated cases of child abuse than the statewide average — 12.5 percent in Yolo County versus 11.4 percent in California (as a percentage of cases reported).

"Parenting can be both a rewarding and challenging job," said Yolo County Children's Alliance Executive Director, Katie Villegas. "Overwhelmed parents and caregivers benefit from a helping hand, a word or two recognizing that parenting can be difficult and a reminder that it's OK to ask for help or take a time out." These small acts help parents manage the inevitable stresses that parenting brings, and children benefit from improved child development and reduced child mistreatment.

During April's "It Only Takes a Minute" campaign, Prevent Child Abuse California is offering a simple pledge form for adults to download and complete, pledging to do at least one small act that will make a difference in a child's life. Examples of small, yet important acts of kindness include fastening a child's car seat, hugging a child, learning a child's name, listening to a child, telling a child you believe in them and complimenting a child. There are several other examples in campaign materials and on the Web site.

'Getting the 411' on 911

U.S. Representative Mike Thompson, who hopes to get federal funding to improve the 911 system locally, was in town on March 25 to provide the Yolo County Supervisors with an update on the effort.

He also toured the Yolo County Emergency Communications Agency in Woodland, which handles emergency dispatch work.

Some pretty funny stuff from the 'grab bag'

Note: I truly appreciate those of you who send me quotes, jokes, and other interesting "stuff" you've run across that you think the readers of this column might enjoy. You're almost always right and here a few more recent examples:

To be 6 again:

A man was sitting on the edge of the bed, observing his wife, looking at herself in the mirror. Since her birthday was only a few days off, he asked her what she would like to have for a present.

"I'd like to be six again," he was sure he heard her say as she continued to look in the mirror.

So, on the morning of her birthday, he arose early, made her a nice big bowl of Lucky Charms, and took her to the Six Flags theme park. What a day! He put her on every ride in the park; the Death Slide, the Wall of Fear, the Screaming Monster Roller Coaster, everything there was. Five hours later, when they staggered out of the theme park, her head was reeling and her stomach felt upside down. He then took her to a McDonald's where he ordered her a Happy Meal with extra fries and a big chocolate shake.

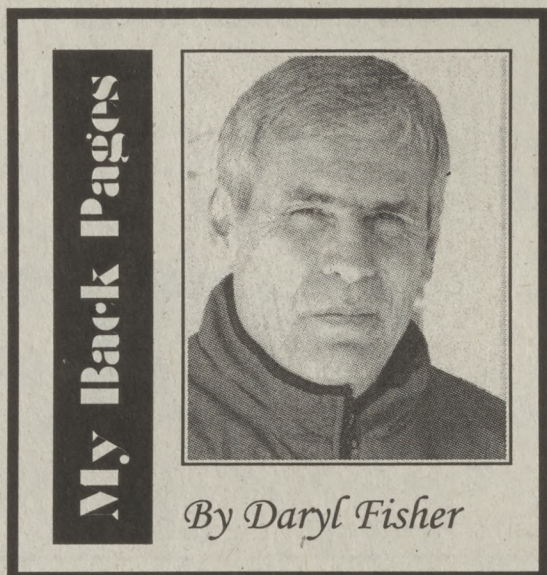

Then it was off to a movie, where he got her and extra-large popcorn with lots of butter, a giant soda pop, and her favorite candy, M&M's. What a fabulous adventure it had been. And finally when she wobbled home with her husband and collapsed into their bed, he leaned over her with a big smile and lovingly asked, "Well, Dear, what was it like being six again?"

Her eyes slowly opened and her expression suddenly changed. "I meant my dress size you dummy!"

Ten signs that you have grown up:

You hear your favorite song on an elevator or at the grocery store.

You watch the weather channel.

You have gone from 130 days of vacation time to 14.

Your houseplants are alive, and you don't smoke any of them.

You don't know what time Taco Bell closes anymore.

Your car insurance goes down and your car payments go up.

Dinner and a movie is the whole date instead of just the beginning of one.

A $4 bottle of wine is no longer "pretty good stuff."

You keep more food than beer in the fridge.

Having sex on a twin bed is out of the question.

A woman's random thoughts:

If you love something, set it free. If it comes back, it will always be yours. If it doesn't come back, it was never yours to begin with. But if it just sits in your living room, messes up your stuff, eats you out of house and home, endlessly uses your telephone, takes your money, and doesn't appear to realize that you had set it free, then unfortunately, you either married it or gave birth to it.

A 15 point quiz. Can you guess which of the following are true and which are false?

1. Apples, not caffeine, are more efficient at waking you up in the morning.
2. Alfred Hitchcock didn't have a belly button.
3. A pack-a-day smoker will lose approximately 2 teeth every 10 years.
4. People do not get sick from cold weather; it's from being indoors a lot more.
5. Only 7 percent of the population are lefties.
6. Babies are born without kneecaps. They don't appear until you are 2-6 years old.
7. Most of us have eaten a spider in our sleep.
8. 40,000 Americans are injured by toilets every year.
9. If coloring weren't added to Coca Cola, it would be green.
10. Humphrey Bogart and Princess Diana were cousins.
11. Michael Jackson owns the rights to the South Carolina State anthem.
12. The only two animals that can see behind themselves without turning their heads are the rabbit and the parrot.
13. Your feet are at their biggest in the afternoon.
14. When you sneeze, all body functions stop, even your heart.
15. 90,000 Americans die every year in a hospital from a disease/or problem they didn't have when they were admitted.

Answers: They are all true. Now go back and think a little bit about #7.

And finally, a few actual metaphors which showed up in high school essays:

She had a deep, throaty, genuine laugh, like the sound a dog makes just before it throws up.

He was tall, like a six-foot-three-inch tree.

The revelation that his marriage of 30 years was over because of his wife's infidelity came as a rude shock, like a surcharge at a formerly surcharge-free ATM.

Mr. McBride fell 12 stories, hitting the pavement like a Hefty bag filled with tomato soup.

His thoughts tumbled in his head, making and breaking alliances like underpants in a dryer without Clint Free.

She grew on him like she was a colony of E. coli bacteria.

He spoke with the wisdom that can only come from experience, like a guy who went blind because he looked at a solar eclipse without one of those boxes with a pinhole in nit and now goes around the country speaking at high schools about the dangers of looking at a solar eclipse without one of those boxes with a pinhole in it.

From the attic came an unearthly howl. The whole scene had an eerie, surreal quality, like when you're on vacation in another city and Jeopardy comes on at 7 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m.

They lived in a typical suburban neighborhood with white picket fences that resembled Nancy Kerrigan's teeth.

The ballerina rose gracefully on point and extended one slender leg behind her, like a dog at a fire hydrant.

He was deeply in love with her. When she spoke, he thought he heard the sound of bells, as if she were a garbage truck backing up.

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa

The Final Four participants have their invitations in hand to the "Big Dance" at the Alamo Dome on Saturday, April 5th in San Antonio. It's UCLA, Memphis, North Carolina and Kansas meeting in Texas for the privilege to play for the college championship. It will be the first time since the tournament expanded to 64 teams in 1985 that all four No.1 seeds reached the Final Four.

The UCLA Bruins (+1 ½) will tangle with the Memphis Tigers (3:07 p.m.-ch.13) on Saturday followed by the Kansas Jayhawks (+3) against the tournament favorite North Carolina Tar Heels. The Championship game is set for Monday, April 7th at 6 p.m.

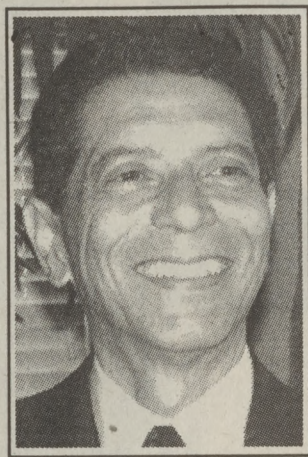

UCLA, who are lead by All-American Kevin Love, will be returning for their third consecutive Final Four appearance. Memphis, who also has their All-American in junior forward, Chris Douglas-Roberts, will be making their first Final Four appearance since 1985.

The Las Vegas odds makers are expecting very close games but have made North Carolina, who is making their 17th final four appearance, a 3-point favorite over Kansas and the odds on favorite to win the National Title.

I see the UCLA vs. Memphis game basically as a toss up but I think Kansas will upset North Carolina. So who will win the National Championship?

I really enjoy watching the Memphis team running the floor and they seem to enjoy the pressure of the tournament, plus the Tigers have an experienced coach in John Calipari. I like Memphis to win the whole enchilada and cut down the ropes on Monday night at the Alamo Dome in Texas.

In the Women's NCAA Tournament, the Stanford Cardinal advanced to the Final Four by beating No. 1 seed Maryland. The Cardinal, who were lead by Candice Wiggins 41 points advances to the "Big Dance" for the first time since 1977. The Cardinal will meet Rutgers or Connecticut in the national semifinals Sunday in Tampa, Fla.

By Richard Novoa

Kings Korner

The Kings (33-40) limped back to the Arco Arena after beating Seattle 120-107 on Sunday night to prepare for their Tuesday night game against the Houston Rockets, who are still battling for a playoff spot.

Coach Theus got a stiff message from the Maloof's regarding playing time for their young guns. Looks like Quincy Douby, Spencer Hawes and Shelden Williams will get some extra playing time in the seasons final nine games.

After the Rockets leave town the Kings will host the Clippers on Thursday (7 p.m.-CSN) night and then fly off to Denver on Saturday (6 p.m.-CSN) night for a quick game against the playoff hungry Nuggets before returning the friendly confines of the Arco Arena on Sunday (6 p.m.-CSN) night to host Kobe Bryant and the first place Lakers.

Diamond Notes

The Major League regular season started on Monday for the San Francisco Giants but somebody forgot to tell Barry Zito. Zito had another shaky first inning in Los Angeles losing his fourth consecutive opening day game. Barry gave up a three run home run to Giants nemesis, Jeff Kent, in the first inning and it was "Déjà Vu" all over again for the Giants million dollar man. Zito is now 0-4 with an 8.83 ERA in his four career season-opening day assignments.

The G-Men, who are coming off their worst spring training in franchise history, are predicted to lose 100 games this season. The Giants left spring training with the lowest batting average and highest ERA among Cactus League teams while committing the most errors in the major leagues. Not Good!

The only bright spot in the line-up is rookie shortstop Brian Bocoock, who hasn't played above the Class A level. Bocoock is the first Giant to make his major-league debut as an Opening Day starter since Robby Thompson and Will Clark in 1986.

NFL Notes

The NFL has announced that the Oakland Raiders will open the 2008 season in prime time when they host the Denver Broncos on an ESPN Monday night doubleheader on September 8th. The rest of the NFL schedule will be released later this month.

Enjoy your day - see ya next week!

The semi-pro WOLVERINES (in dark uniforms, playing offense) stormed to a 58-0 victory last weekend at River City High School's field in West Sacramento

The West Sacramento Wolverines football team took apart the Vacaville Crusaders on Saturday, with a score of 58-0.

It was the home opener for the semi-professional squad based in West Sacramento.

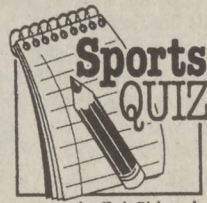

The next game is 6:30 p.m. on Saturday. Tickets are $10, but youth football players and cheerleaders can get in free.

The Wolverines are made of players from age 19-30, and play in a league frequently scouted by the Arena football league.

Q. I have been watching "King of the Hill" on Fox for years, and my husband recently told me that Brittany Murphy voices the character of Luann. I think he is wrong. Can you help settle this disagreement? We have a dinner riding on it.
— Gina, Charlotte, N.C.

A. I hope the dinner you bet on wasn't too expensive for your sake, because your husband is correct. Actress Brittany Murphy, who made her breakthrough in the movie "Clueless" back in 1995, has played Luann Platter, the dimwit with a heart of gold, since the show's debut in 1997. In the first season, Luann was actually smart and assertive, and Brittany used a huskier voice for her. However, as the show progressed, her voice got higher and her I.Q. lower. Luann is married to Elroy "Lucky" Kleinschmidt, who is voiced by rocker Tom Petty.

Q. A few weeks ago you printed a list of TV shows and when they were coming back. Could you let us know some of the shows that won't be returning next year? — Denny B., via e-mail

A. Sure thing. Unless they receive a last-minute pardon, the following shows are on the chopping block and won't be returning for the 2008-2009 television season: For ABC, "Big Shots," "Carpoolers" and "Cavemen." For CBS, there's "Cane" and "Viva Laughlin." Fox is losing "K-Ville" and "Nashville." And NBC has the biggest casualty rate, as the network will be losing "Bionic Woman," "Journeyman," "Las Vegas," "Quarterlife" and "Scrubs." Don't fear, "Scrubs" fans, the show is moving to ABC for its final season.

Q. I have not seen or read anything about Julia Stiles in the past year or so. Can you advise what she is up to these days? — Barney in Canada

A. Julia Stiles, who first gained attention playing opposite Heath Ledger in "10 Things I Hate About You" — which was also a breakout role for Heath — is currently wrapping up "The Bell Jar," in which she plays Esther Greenwood. Also, now that there are rumblings of a fourth film in the "Bourne" saga, perhaps we'll see her in action-movie mode again.

Q. I have been looking for information on the TV war series called "The Big Picture." It was on TV about the same time as "The Victory at Sea" series. I would like to find out if it is available on video or DVD. — Ben C., Oak Harbor, Wash.

A. Within the past year or so, The National Archives has started releasing compilations of the series, which lasted from 1950-1975. It won 10-2 at #1 girls doubles and Sarah Aguilar and Ranika Prasad teamed up for a 10-6 win at #2. RC also took the mixed doubles when Yian Saetern and Dipak Patel came from behind for a 10-7 victory, and Phi Dinh and Vongsri Vang squeaked by their opponents at #2 boys doubles, 10-9(2).

The Raiders also traveled to Auburn where they shut out Forest Lake Christian 9-0. Ionova didn't lose a game in her #2 girls match, nor did Istomin and Jim Saetern in mixed doubles. In boys singles, Chris Salazar (#1) and Doug Tipton (#2) were nearly perfect, dropping only one game each. Monica Anaya played her first-ever varsity match, teaming with Aguilar for a win at #2 girls doubles.

El Dorado of Placerville came to West Sacramento and the hosts came away with an 8-1 victory. Salazar and Tipton led the way again in their boys singles matches. Salazar won 10-1 at #1 and Tipton's score was a flawless 10-0 at #2. Yang dropped a hard-fought #1 girls match, 8-10, but Istomin took the #2 slot 10-6. The Raiders swept all five doubles contests. Jim Saetern and Dinh won 10-4 at #1 boys and Adam Araza and Trevor Langford came through 10-7 at #2. In girls doubles, Ionova and Lopatin (#1) and the sister-duo of Yian and Lai Saetern (#2) had identical 10-2 scores. It marked Lai Saetern's varsity debut. Aguilar and Vang cruised to a 10-1 win in mixed.

CVC play resumes this week as the Raiders host Dixon tomorrow at 4 pm and then travel to Center next Tuesday. RC's overall record is 11-0 this season, and 2-0 in the CVC.

News-Ledger Editorial

Ban on plastic grocery bags?

As the News-Ledger goes to press on Tuesday, it's still unknown what new initiatives, if any, Mayor Christopher Cabaldon would propose last evening at what may be his last "State of the City" address.

One initiative worth a look, though, is now being pioneered by San Francisco and other jurisdictions. "Bagdad by the Bay" has banned the use of those ubiquitous, disposable plastic shopping bags. We Americans tend not to notice how much we consume and how much of that consumption is packaging. A lot of that packaging – like those plastic bags – is meant as a momentary convenience – but built to last for centuries.

Those plastic bags aren't biodegradable. They are recyclable, but few ever make it to the recycling bin. Many end up in the streets as litter. A lot of the plastic bags go from the streets to the storm drain systems, ending up in the waterways and oceans. Whether they end up in the ocean or a landfill, those plastic bags stubbornly refuse to break down. They will serve as evidence, for generations to come, of that fast-food lunch you ate or that trip to Safeway you made yesterday.

Some cities are looking at forbidding their local retailers from using these bags. These policy-makers hope to promote reusable bags and paper bags (although paper bags carry their own environmental costs).

There's no need for West Sacramento or Yolo County to jump to the front of this bandwagon. But the ban on bags is well worth watching. After it becomes a little more clear how well the bans work and what are their consequences (intentional or not), this city can and should make its own decision.

Letters to the Editor

Hordes of unwashed

I want to respond to the Sacramento Bee's weekly column on 3/24/08 about local transportation concerns and in particular the proposed bridge between West Sacramento and Broadway. Broadway area resident Susan Sidhu-Manuel wrote to the Bee saying she feared this proposed bridge would provide direct access to her neighborhood for the so-called Broderick Boys. It is clear all forms of racism are alive and kicking in our communities. Adversely is Ms. Sidhu-Manuel concerned about daily traffic from West Sacramento to the Broadway area that results in economic stability for local businesses of "her neighborhood"?

To my further chagrin, our very own Mayor Cabaldon assured the Bee reporter that the bridge is about economic opportunity and not about unleashing "the hordes of the unwashed" on nice neighborhoods. The hordes of the unwashed! Is this type of response supposed to instill confidence in the citizens of West Sacramento? What a derogatory assessment of his constituents. However, one should not be surprised because by his own actions and selective community interests, it is evident that Mayor Cabaldon does harbor less than positive thoughts about the very community he represents. Unless of course it involves his own self-promotion attached to favorable business transactions and associates gained. That this elected public official would address any part of his constituency as "the hordes of the unwashed" is not exactly a ringing endorsement in furthering his current run for a local assembly seat. Let us see how many of the unwashed cast a favorable ballot for Mr.

Cabaldon in seeking an assembly seat. As a confirmed used of Irish Spring, I, for one, say nay!

Build new bridge further south

On March 20, at the SACOG meeting, no decision was made regarding the proposed Broadway Bridge. While several folks from the Sacramento side objected to it, I was the only public member to offer an alternative: A Southport-South Sacramento bridge located south of Sutterville Road/ Linden Road.

So, just as bridges across the American River for Light Rail, vehicles, bikes and pedestrians would add greater connectivity to that area (and alleviate traffic), a Southport-South Sacramento Bridge – located properly – would better improve connectivity on both sides, thus reducing commute traffic and commute time, fuel usage and the resultant pollution.

Reminder: After Memorial Day/Dixieland Jazz Jubilee (May 26), major repair will begin on the lower level of I-5 on both sides of Capitol Mall, causing closures. Many should consider alternatives to reduce traffic for the planned 42 days of repair work.

Johannessen appreciated

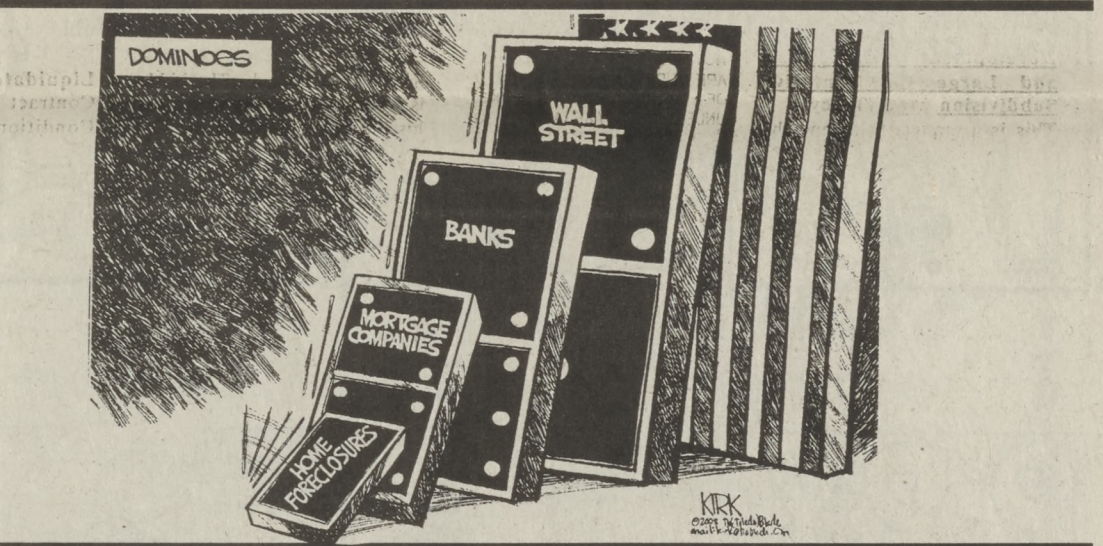

I'm glad to read here, in the newspaper of record for this community, that Councilman Mark Johannessen saw fit to publish his findings from his two listening sessions held in Southport and Broderick on February 27 and 28, respectively. The meeting I attended was well-run in the sense that it was a workable blend of informality, in which everyone was allowed to express their opinion on many different areas of concern in their community, and subtle formality in dealing with what I would term as regular (if not professional) activists who regularly attend each and every meeting with a set agenda – fitting or not. I'm somewhat leery, however, that his initiative in interactive communication with residents of the entire community will be seized on by the "politically nubile" as a mere opportunity for political self-advancement, rather than as an opportunity for community improvement. It will be quite telling, as well as redundant, if there is a sudden, similar spurt of community concern displayed by each and every one of our council people and Mayor Cabaldon, as well as all of their political opponents.

I also attended the community meeting held on March 22 at the city hall, for the neighborhood residents of Bryte and Broderick. There is a glaringly obvious temptation to those of us who are interested to the point of apparent obsession, in these meetings: That is the fact that we may tend to over-emphasize our heartfelt concerns in an overlong manner. "Brevity is (not only) the soul of wit", but, of positive results from the expression of one's concerns, with the hopes of their being addressed by those to whom we entrust with our governmental services, as well as our community's future. After all, one cannot expect someone to not become less cooperative if their eyes are glazed-over by excessive verbal exuberance.

CRITIC'S CORNER

"Dr. Seuss' Horton Hears A Who!"

Running Time: 88 minutes
MPAA rating: G

I guess the third time's a charm. The first two attempts at bringing the works of Dr. Seuss to the big screen ("Cat in the Hat" and "How the Grinch Stole Christmas") looked like they came from Poo-ville rather than Who-ville. Thankfully, "Dr. Seuss' Horton Hears A Who!" is finally the Dr. Seuss movie we've all been waiting for. Who knew?

One of the reasons "Horton" is so good is that it's an animated feature rather than live action, so all the whimsy of Seuss' visual style can be fully realized. Another reason is that although released by 20th Century Fox, the film has ex-Pixar animator Jimmy Hayward onboard as one of the directors. Hayward worked on such Pixar classics as "Finding Nemo," "Monsters Inc." and the two "Toy Story" films.

Let's add to the mix a funny script that has laughs for both kids and grownups and wonderful vocal performances by Jim Carrey (as Horton), the awesome Carol Burnett (as Kangaroo) and Steve Carell (as the Mayor of Who-ville).

For those who need a refresher on the story: Horton is a happy-go-lucky elephant in the land of Nool. One day he hears a sound coming from a dust speck on a clover. He discovers there is a teeny civilization. Who-ville, existing on the dust speck. The self-proclaimed leader of Nool, Kangaroo, who "pouch-schools" her joey, says that since we can't see Who-ville it cannot, must not, exist. It must be destroyed.

Horton tries valiantly to save the dust speck from the evil machinations of Kangaroo, while the teeny Mayor of Who-ville tries to convince his constituents that there is a world beyond theirs and they must make themselves known if they are to survive.

This version of "Horton," while not the same as the classic TV special (no monkeys chanting "boil that dust speck"), and despite the awful REO Speedwagon musical ending (too "Shrek"-y), is well worth the price of admission.

Corkscrews With Spring Veggies

Toss sautéed asparagus and leeks with pasta and creamy goat cheese. Yum!

- 1 bunch (about 1 pound) leeks
- 1 package (16 ounce) corkscrew or bow-tie pasta
- 1 tablespoon margarine or butter
- 1 pound asparagus, trimmed and cut diagonally into 2-inch pieces
- 1 package (4 ounces) soft goat cheese, cut into small pieces

1. Cut off roots and leaf ends from leeks. Discard any tough outer leaves. Cut each leek lengthwise in half, then crosswise into 1/4-inch-wide slices. Place leeks in large bowl of cold water; with hand, swish leeks around to remove any sand. Transfer leeks to colander. Repeat process, changing water several times, until all sand is removed. Drain well.

2. In large saucepot, prepare pasta in boiling salted water as label directs.

3. Meanwhile, in nonstick 12-inch skillet, melt margarine or butter over medium heat. Add leeks and cook until almost tender, about 5 minutes, stirring often. Stir in asparagus, 3/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper; cook 5 minutes longer, stirring often. Add 1/3 cup water; cover and cook 3 to 5 minutes, until asparagus is tender-crisp.

4. Drain pasta, reserving 3/4 cup pasta cooking water. Return pasta to saucepot. Add asparagus mixture and pasta cooking water; toss well. Spoon into large serving bowl; sprinkle with goat cheese and coarsely ground black pepper. Serves 4.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• In the small Asian country of Bhutan, nestled in the mountains between China and India, there was no access to TV until 1999, and the capital city (if you can call it a city) still has not a single traffic light.

• It was Rwandan humanitarian leader Paul Rusesabagina who made the following sage observation: "There is no greater gift to an insecure leader than to whip up fear and hatred among the population."

• Other than the fact that they were all famous writers, what did Charles Dickens, Edgar Allan Poe, Mark Twain, Louisa May Alcott, James A. Michener and Leo Tolstoy have in common? They were all adopted.

• The medical journal Pediatrics conducted a study of 38 animated films, including "Sleeping Beauty," "Dumbo," "Beauty and the Beast," "Pinocchio," "Fantasia" and "Peter Pan," and its finding were somewhat surprising for films created for children. The films studied showed an average of 42 seconds of alcohol use.

• If you live in the South, you're very familiar with that plant known as Spanish moss. You might not realize, though, that it didn't come from Spain, and it's not even a moss. In fact, Spanish moss is closely related to the pineapple.

• If you're out in the American West, you may see the iconic saguaro cactus. It's extremely slow-growing — it might grow only 6 inches in its first 10 years of life. It's persistent, though; the largest known specimen reached 60 feet in height.

• You may not have realized it, but record producer, musical arranger and Academy Award-winning film composer and trumpeter Quincy Jones has a somewhat unusual middle name: Delight.

What's your favorite kitchen-related challenge?

"The biggest kitchen challenge I ever faced was ironically in the smallest kitchen I ever had. My apartment was a typical Manhattan experience — fourth-floor walk-up, cramped. The kitchen was incredibly small.

"One holiday season I decided to take on the masochistic challenge of hosting a dinner party. I sought out and prepared some of the most challenging gourmet recipes I could find. For some reason, the size of my kitchen did not deter me. Ingenuity became the name of the game. I balanced bowls on my fireplace mantle, had plates resting on bookshelves and veggies drying in my bathroom sink.

THAI-STYLE HALIBUT WITH COCONUT-CURRY BROTH

- 2 teaspoons vegetable oil
- 4 shallots, finely chopped (about 3/4 cup)
- 2 1/2 teaspoons red curry paste*, or 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 2 cups low-sodium chicken broth
- 1/2 cup light coconut milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt, plus 1/4 teaspoon, plus more for seasoning
- 4 (6-ounce) pieces halibut fillet, skin removed
- Steamed spinach
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped fresh cilantro leaves
- 2 scallions, green part only, thinly sliced
- 2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 2 cups cooked brown rice, for serving

*Available in the Asian section of most supermarkets
Steam or microwave 5 cups of washed baby spinach for 2 minutes

1. In a large sauté pan, heat the oil over moderate heat. Add shallots and cook, stirring occasionally, until beginning to brown, 3 to 5 minutes. Add curry paste and cook, stirring, until fragrant, about 30 seconds. Add chicken broth, coconut milk and 1/2 teaspoon salt, and simmer until reduced to 2 cups, about 5 minutes.
2. Season the halibut with 1/4 teaspoon salt. Arrange fish in sauté pan and gently shake pan so fish is coated with sauce. Cover and cook until the fish flakes easily with a fork, about 7 minutes.
3. Arrange a pile of steamed spinach in the bottom of 4 soup plates. Top with the fish fillets. Stir cilantro, scallions and lime juice into the sauce, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Ladle sauce over the fish, and serve with rice.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

April 2, 2007
 City of West Sacramento
 Department of Housing and Community Investment
 1110 West Capitol Avenue
 West Sacramento, 95691
 (916) 617-4555

On or about April 10, 2008 the City of West Sacramento will submit a request to the State of California Department of Housing and Community Development for the release of Home Investment Partnership Program (HOME) funds under Title II of the Cranston-Gonzales National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 as amended, to undertake a project known as the City of West Sacramento First Time Homebuyer Assistance Program for the purpose of providing assistance for homebuyer acquisition and acquisition with minor rehabilitation of existing single-family dwelling units and single-family dwelling units under construction within the boundaries of the City of West Sacramento.
